Summary: Altitude has developed the H@tch Vet Expert application. This application, developed for the Merial and Chêne Vert Conseil laboratories, is intended to be used during audits in hatcheries.

Veterinarians fill out a predefined questionnaire in the application during their visit to the farm. This questionnaire, the responses of which appear in the form of notes, text, multiple choice questions, etc. then makes it possible to create statistics but also to position the farms in relation to previous audits or in relation to other farms of the same type.

The questionnaires and statistics can be managed from the application but also from the website.
